

Prof. Michal Lotem, MD, is the founder and head of the Hadassah Cancer Research Institute since its establishment in 2019. Specializing in malignant melanoma and cancer immunotherapy, she focuses on advancing research to better understand cancer and develop cellular and immune-based therapies. Her vision is to harness the power of the immune system , leveraging scientific advancements, towards the eradication of solid tumors